QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

December 1, 2011

Q: The PTWB-01 indicates that the paint is to be a standard CalTrans spec product. This is not necessarily considered a low temperature paint however; but the term is also part of the product description. We have sold you the Wolverine low temperature paint made by Ennis in the past and I'm curious to know if this is what you require instead of the CalTrans product. The Caltrans paint is much less expensive so the final price will vary depending on which you choose.

A: The standard CalTrans spec is fine.
