Dear Mr. Mc Kenzie

My parents purchased the Tar Springs Ranch in 1940s. There for a time oil companies drilled for oil on the ranch and always without success. We have been watching the Excleron interest in the Huasna area now for a few years and we are amazed at the aggressiveness of this company in view of the fact that this is not top value oil. This puts our neighbors at risk on the road or on foot. The road is narrow and offers such potential for accidents. It is bad enough to swerve away from hay trucks and we know that oil trucks would be prevalent every day on Huasna. Why all this risk of life for bad grade oil? Please consider the safety of the residents and the foot and bike people.

There are many who live in the townsite and on Huasna Road. Many are young people just learning to drive.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Rich Lammis
