Dear SLO Supervisors and Planning Commissioners:

Yesterday's derailment in Washington should be a reminder and a major caution that train transport of oil is extremely dangerous. Please do not add to the danger by permitting more trains carrying crude to pass through SLO county.

What is the advantage in the face of negatives?

The world is awash in oil right now at a time when we should be moving to renewables asap.

The local, state and national interest is not for more oil trains.

Our family and community looks to you to do the right thing and say no to oil trains.

thank you
