Question or Comment	I read an article in the Weekly Magazine in Monterey, CA about the proposed transport of oil and could not believe my eyes. The last few words of the article go like this, "Nonetheless, Shinderman doesn't think denial's a slam dunk. "(Phillips has) friends up there on the (planning) commission," he says. They spread the money around, they pay a lot of taxes and they provide a lot of jobs." I am sorry to inform anyone who will listen that it is not about money, jobs or anything else that they can try to persuade the public with. It is about the environment. The sheer audacity that they would transport oil over Elkhorn Slough or next to the growing fields of Salinas is so outrageous that I can't believe they would even have the gall to propose this. For them it is all about the money and for that matter I would like to tell them where they can put it!!! Please think of our precious underground water supply, our slough and our beautiful Monterey Bay with it's bounty of wonderful ocean creatures. Money is not always the MOST important thing to consider when making decisions and it is time that we in this country start to recognize that issue. Thank you, Barbara McKinder of Pacific Grove, CA
