Subject: Objection to dangerous trains

Dear Mr. Wilson,

I understand you are the person we should send our concerns to, so thank you for making yourself available. My family, and that includes myself and my husband, my elderly parents, and my daughter and son-in-law and two kids, all within two miles of the railroad tracks, in three different houses, are definitely concerned. We used to all love the sound of the train, but now it makes me think of danger and death since the crude-oil trains, which have already caused a number of horrid accidents on this continent, may be increasing and coming through many times per day. Even one time is too many, in my opinion, but more than that is just creating very bad odds.

MONEY is not enough reason to endanger so many people along the rail line. We live in Davis, California. My husband and I, and our children when they visit, live only a few blocks from the train, and we use a gym that is next to the tracks. There's also a big shopping center, and in fact ALL of downtown Davis is near the tracks.

Please be sure to include us in your count of people who bothered to contact you to ask that you NOT go forward with the plan to increase these trains. And for each of us who actually writes, you know there are 1000 who agree but didn't write.

Thank you,
Claudia Krich
