Subject: Proposed Quarry

As a resident of Santa Margarita and San Luis Obispo County, I find it difficult to imagine how ANYONE would consider the idea of permitting the establishment of the proposed Las Pilitas Quarry, especially with two existing quarries already operating in this area. How do you suppose this will impact the ecological system, property values and the quality of life for residents in and around town?

Have permits already been issued without County Planners having made studies of the effects of this quarry on the environment and the general welfare of nearby residents? A constant stream of gravel trucks passing through town? Hundreds of gravel trucks streaming through Santa Margarita and our crumbling, curving roads, impeding traffic in the surrounding rural area? And apparently little concern for air quality, water use in a drought stricken area, fire danger and a quality of life? Will this be forced upon us?
