IMPORTANT INFORMATION – PLEASE READ

- The Americans with Disabilities Act defines assistance animals as any dog that is individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual, or other mental disability. Other species of animals, whether wild or domestic, trained or untrained, are not service animals for the purposes of this definition. The work or tasks performed by a service animal must be directly related to the handler's disability. The crime deterrent effects of an animal's presence and the provision of emotional support, well-being, comfort, or companionship do not constitute work or tasks for the purposes of this definition. Notwithstanding restrictions on access to public accommodations, facilities, and conveyances, individuals accompanied by assistance animals are subject to all other animal control laws, including licensing and leash laws.
  - All Assistance Animal Identification Tags must be returned to Animal Services upon the retirement or death of the animal for which the tag was issued. A replacement fee of up to $100 may be assessed for lost or stolen tags.
  - All Assistance Animal Identification Tags are issued for a term equal to the validity of the animal license. All applications must be accompanied by a valid rabies vaccination certificate.
- Applications for animals in training must be accompanied by a written document detailing a specific training plan and schedule. A statement of qualifications of the trainer should also be attached.
