Important Information:

- Please obtain copies of grower permits with maps to determine correct site identification numbers before submitting notices of intent (NOI) to our office. Site identification numbers listed on a NOI must match written recommendations, use reports, and maps.
- Effective August 1, 2020, Carbaryl (Sevin) is listed as a California Restricted Material except when formulated as a bait and labeled only for the production of agricultural plant commodities.
- As required by EPA's Paraquat Dichloride Human Health Mitigation Decision and the amended paraquat dichloride (a.k.a. paraquat) product labels, all handlers (mixing, loading and applying) must be certified applicators and must successfully complete EPA Paraquat Training module. The training provides important information about paraquat's toxicity, new label requirements and restrictions, and the consequences of misuse.
