

RESOURCE LIST

Source	Resource Description	URL
Local Government Commission	Healthy Kids Fact Sheet	http://bit.do/lqc1
	Transportation Tools to Improve Children's Health and Mobility Fact Sheet	http://bit.do/lqc2
Book by Andrew L. Dannenberg, Howard Frumkin and Richard J. Jackson.	Making Healthy Places: Designing and Building for Health, Well-being, and Sustainability. A comprehensive volume which thoroughly details how our physical environment impacts each of us, our community, and our nation.	http://bit.do/healthyplaces
Book by Richard J. Jackson with Stacy Sinclair	Designing Healthy Communities. The companion book to the acclaimed public television documentary highlights how we design the built environment and its potential for addressing and preventing many of the nation's devastating childhood and adult health concerns.	http://designinghealthycommunities.org
ChangeLab Solutions	Complete Streets talking points: provides informational facts and statistical data that highlight existing dangers and solutions found in complete street implementation.	http://bit.do/changelab1
	Getting the Wheels Rolling: a policy guide for creating bicycle friendly communities.	http://bit.do/changelab2
	This Land is Our Land: Public land ownership and some of the related legal and policy issues that may arise when partnering with public entities to create opportunities for physical recreation.	http://bit.do/changelab3
	Healthy Planning Policies - A Compendium from CA General Plans: excerpts language from general plans that have gone a step beyond the traditional to build healthier communities.	http://bit.do/changelab4
	Public funding for Healthy Food	http://bit.do/changelab5
	Partnering with other organizations	http://bit.do/changelab6
	Healthy Housing	http://bit.do/changelab7
	How to Create and Implement Healthy General Plans	http://bit.do/changelab8

Source	Resource Description	http://bit.do/raimi1
Raimi and Associates	Healthy Regional Transportation Plans	http://bit.do/riverside1
Riverside County	Disease Prevention Framework	http://bit.do/riverside2
	Community Health Profile	http://bit.do/riverside3
	General Plan Health Element	http://bit.do/CityofElMontegp
City of El Monte	General Plan Health and Wellness Element	http://bit.do/HiP1
Health Impact Partners (HIP)	SCS Health & Equity Performance Metrics. Substantiated evidence on environment-related health impacts.	http://bit.do/HiP2
	Searchable database includes research evidence and citations linking the social determinants, the built environment and health.	http://bit.do/prevention
Prevention Institute	Good Health Counts: A 21st Century Approach to Health and Community for California: This report focuses on indicators associated with community factors and how indicator reports and report cards can support community efforts to improve health.	http://bit.do/activeliving
Active Living by Design	Resource Guide for Rural Areas: a listing of relevant websites, guidance documents, tools, and case studies that may be helpful for community partnerships working in rural areas to facilitate healthy eating and active living.	http://bit.do/cdc
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's - Healthy Community Design Initiative	The Healthy Community Design Workshop Report: The report illustrates the importance of considering public-health factors, such as physical activity, respiratory and mental health, water quality, social equity, healthy aging, and social capital, when creating the built environment.	http://bit.do/HiAP1
Health in All Policies (HiAP) Task Force	Fact Sheet about HiAP	http://bit.do/HiAP2
	Issue Briefs and Implementation plans	http://bit.do/HiAP3
	Health in All Policies Task Force Report to the Strategic Growth Council Executive Summary	http://bit.do/childhoodobesity

This resource list was provided at Community Design: What Does Health Have to Do with It? on October 18, 2013. This list is not comprehensive, but intended to provide a starting point for learning more about Health in All Policies, community health indicators, implementation tools, and examples of healthy policies and plans.