One extra cleaning for one healthier you

Is dental care safe during pregnancy?

Yes, and it's so important. That's because many of the changes happening in your body at this time can actually affect your gums and teeth. Studies even suggest women with no dental care have a higher risk of delivering a preterm baby.¹

Your Aetna Dental plan includes a special perk:

You're covered for one extra dental cleaning during pregnancy.* So you can take special care of your teeth — and your tiny one — throughout this special time.

Signs to look out for

See your dentist if you have:

- Bleeding, swollen or receding gums
- Mouth sores or growths
- Persistent bad breath
- Loose or shifting teeth

Your home for dental benefits
