Introduction

The following are proposed amendments to the County's sign regulations (located in Title 22 and Title 23), in order to be consistent with federal law regarding content neutrality and protect the First Amendment right of free speech. In 2015, the U.S. Supreme Court ruling in Reed v. Town of Gilbert limited the ability of local governments to regulate signs on the basis of their content or message. For a local ordinance to be considered content-neutral, regulations should be based on the "time, place, and manner" of a sign, rather than the message the sign conveys.

In this legal case, the Town of Gilbert, Arizona provided different standards for political signs, ideological signs, real estate signs, and others. A local church, Good News Community Church, placed temporary signs in public right-of-way to direct visitors to worship services, which were held at different venues every week. Gilbert staff enforced the sign ordinance by removing the church's temporary signs, which exceeded the display time limit and did not provide the date of event, as required. Meanwhile, other types of temporary signs – such as those with political or commercial messages – were allowed by the sign ordinance to be displayed on a larger area, and for a longer period of time. The church's pastor, Clyde Reed, filed a lawsuit and a challenge to Gilbert's sign ordinance, which was heard by the U.S. Supreme Court in 2015. In the final decision, all nine Supreme Court justices agreed that the Town of Gilbert, Arizona's sign ordinance failed to meet the content neutrality requirement of the First Amendment.

Most local sign ordinances, like the Town of Gilbert's, place different restrictions on a sign depending on what it says – giving commercial, political, and ideological speech vastly unequal treatment, depending on the jurisdiction. The Sign Ordinance Update aims to amend the County's regulations to be constitutionally sound and legally defensible, while protecting the community's visual character.

Summary of Proposed Amendments

The proposed amendments represent a targeted approach to come into alignment with the content neutrality requirement of Reed v. Gilbert, rather than a wholesale revision of the County regulations. Currently, the County's sign ordinance contains many instances of content-based regulations. The current sign ordinance provides uneven standards for sign height, area, and display time depending on the content of the sign (e.g. agricultural signs, political election signs, real estate signs, and temporary event signs). In a few instances, the current regulations even restrict what can appear on the message of the sign.

The following is a list summarizing the proposed amendments:

- Expanded purpose statements. The proposed statements are intended to protect the constitutionally guaranteed right of free speech, and to prevent the favoring of commercial speech over non-commercial speech or vice-versa.
- New principles regarding message substitution and applicability. Section 22.20.030 (General Principles) emphasizes that the County will administer and enforce the sign ordinance in a content-neutral manner. It also clarifies regulations outside of Title 22 and Title 23 which apply to signs.
- Clarified sign permit requirements, sign authorizations, and sign prohibitions. "Exempt signs" have been re-termed as "authorized signs", as they must still comply with the regulations of the ordinance.
- Revise sign authorizations and allowances based on location (land use category), rather than content. In this amended approach, the land use category generally determines the signage allowance. For example, a property in an Agricultural and Rural Land Use Category may display up to 16 square feet of temporary signs – regardless of what the content is (e.g. a sign with a religious message is subject to the same standards as a sign advertising a special event). By the same token, allowances previously based on content (e.g. political signs and real estate signs) have been removed.
- Remove prohibition for off-premise signs; remove allowance for winery directional signs. In this amended approach, wineries do not have exclusive allowances for directional signs. This allowance would be open to all uses, according to the land use category they are located in.
- Revise content-based standards for specific land uses. Revise several standards for specific land uses which explicitly restrict what content a sign may contain.

Proposed Amendments to Title 22 (Land Use Ordinance)

Item #1 - Proposed amendments to Article 3, Chapter 22.20 (Signs)

Substantial revisions to update sign Countywide sign regulations, consistent with content neutral requirements of First Amendment speech and Reed v. Gilbert.

CHAPTER 22.20 - SIGNS

22.20.010 - Sign Ordinance

The standards this Chapter shall be known and may be cited as the “San Luis Obispo County Sign Ordinance.” These requirements apply to all signs constructed or altered after the effective date of this Title, except as otherwise provided by Section 22.20.040. These requirements apply to proposed signs in addition to all applicable provisions of the California Outdoor Advertising Act (Business and Professions Code Sections 5200 et seq., and California Administrative Code Title 4, Sections 2240 et seq.).

22.20.020 - Purpose Of Chapter

This Chapter establishes sign regulations that are intended to:

- A. Support the use of signs to aid orientation, identify businesses and activities, express local history and character, or serve other information purposes; and
- B. Protect the ability of the public to identify uses and premises without confusion by encouraging signs to be designed with a scale, graphic character and type of lighting compatible with the appearance of the buildings or uses identified by signs, as well as other buildings and uses in the vicinity; and
- C. Support the use of signs that are maintained in a safe and attractive condition that do not:
  - 1. Create distractions that may jeopardize pedestrian or vehicular traffic safety; or
  - 2. Produce glare that adversely affects residential uses.
- D. Allow adequate avenues for both commercial and non-commercial messages, and protect the constitutionally guaranteed right of free speech; and

E. Protect the character of the various communities within the County and safeguard the public health and safety.

22.20.030 - General Principles Sign Code Adopted

~~The Sign Code published by the International Conference of Building Officials entitled the “Uniform Sign Code” 1991 edition, or subsequent edition adopted by the State of California, is hereby adopted and incorporated into this Title by reference as though it were fully set forth here. In the event of any conflict with the Uniform Sign Code, this Chapter shall prevail.~~

A. Applicability.

- 1. Applicable codes. In addition to complying with the provisions of this Chapter, all signs must be constructed in accordance with the Uniform Building Code, the Uniform Sign Code, the Electrical Code, and all other applicable laws, rules, regulations, and policies.
- 2. Applicable County regulations. In addition to complying with the provisions of this Chapter, all signs must comply with other regulations of this Title, including Planning Area Standards (Article 9), Community Planning Standards (Article 10), and the Highway Corridor Design Standards (Section 22.10.095).
- 3. These regulations are not intended to and do not apply to signs erected, maintained, or otherwise posted, owned, or leased by the State of California, the federal government, or the County. The inclusion of “government” in describing some signs does not intend to subject the government to regulation, but instead helps demonstrate the type of sign that is exempt from regulation under this Chapter.

B. Regulatory interpretations. The County shall apply this Chapter in a content-neutral manner. This Chapter shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with the free speech protections guaranteed by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution and Article 1, Section 2 of the California Constitution. The noncommunication aspects of all signs shall comply with the regulations and standards set forth in this Title. “Noncommunicative aspects” includes regulations that do not relate to the content of the sign, including the time, place, manner, location, size, height, illumination, spacing, and orientation of signs.

C. Message substitution. A non-commercial message of any type may be substituted, in whole or in part, for any duly permitted commercial message; and any non-commercial message may be substituted for any non-commercial message.

- 1. No additional approval required. Such substitution of message may be made without any additional approval, permitting, registration, or notice to the County. This provision prevents any inadvertent favoring of commercial speech over non-commercial speech or favoring any non-commercial message over any other non-commercial message.

2. Limitations. This provision does not allow the following:

a. Create the right to increase the total amount of signage for a parcel, lot, or land use;

b. Affect the requirement that a sign structure or mounting device be properly permitted; or c. Allow a change in the physical structure of a sign or its mounting device.

D. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to prohibit a person from holding a sign while picketing or protesting on public property that has been determined to be a traditional or designated public forum, so long as the person holding the sign does not block ingress and egress from buildings, create a safety hazard by impeding travel, or violate any other reasonable time, place, and manner restrictions adopted by the County.

E. Severability. If any section, sentence, clause, phrase, word, portion, or provision of this Chapter is held invalid, unconstitutional, or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect, impair, or invalidate any other section, sentence, clause, phrase, word, portion, or provision of this Title which can be given effect without the invalid portion. In adopting this Title, the Board of Supervisors affirmatively declares that it would have approved and adopted the Title even without any portion which may be held invalid, unconstitutional, or unenforceable.

These requirements apply to proposed signs in addition to all applicable provisions of the California Outdoor Advertising Act (Business and Professions Code Sections 5200 et seq.; and California Administrative Code Title 4, Sections 2240 et seq.). The sign regulations of this chapter are organized into the following sections:

23.04.302 - Purpose

The purpose of these sections is to establish sign regulations that are intended to:

- a. Support the use of signs to aid orientation, identify businesses and activities, express local history and character, or serve other information purposes; and
- b. ### 23.04.304 -- General Principles Sign Code Adopted

~~The Sign Code published by the International Conference of Building Officials, entitled the "Uniform Sign Code," 1991 edition, or subsequent edition adopted by the State of California, are hereby adopted and incorporated into this title by reference as though it were fully set forth here. In the event of any conflict with the Uniform Sign Code, this chapter shall prevail.~~

a. Applicability.

- (1) Applicable codes. In addition to complying with the provisions of this Chapter, all signs must be constructed in accordance with the Uniform Building Code, the Uniform Sign Code, the Electrical Code, and all other applicable laws, rules, regulations, and policies.
- (2) Applicable County regulations. In addition to complying with the provisions of this Chapter, all signs must comply with the other regulations of this Title, including Planning Area Standards (Part II of the Land Use Element).
- (3) These regulations are not intended to and do not apply to signs erected, maintained, or otherwise posted, owned, or leased by the State of California, the federal government, or the County. The inclusion of "government" in describing some signs does not intend to subject the government to regulation, but instead helps demonstrate the type of sign that is exempt from regulation under this Chapter.

b. Regulatory interpretations. The County shall apply this Chapter in a content-neutral manner. This Chapter shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with the free speech protections guaranteed by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution and Article 1, Section 2 of the California Constitution. The noncommunication aspects of all signs shall comply with the regulations and standards set forth in this Title. sign, including the time, place, manner, location, size, height, illumination, spacing, and orientation of signs.

This provision prevents any inadvertent favoring of commercial speech over non-commercial speech or favoring any non-commercial message over any other non-commercial message.

(2) Limitations. This provision does not allow the following:

(i) Create the right to increase the total amount of signage for a parcel, lot, or land use;

(ii) Affect the requirement that a sign structure or mounting device be properly permitted; or

(iii) Allow a change in the physical structure of a sign or its mounting device.

d. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to prohibit a person from holding a sign while picketing or protesting on public property that has been determined to be a traditional or designated public forum, so long as the person holding the sign does not block ingress and egress from buildings, create a safety hazard by impeding travel, or violate any other reasonable time, place, and manner restrictions adopted by the County.

e. Severability. If any section, sentence, clause, phrase, word, portion, or provision of this Chapter is held invalid, unconstitutional, or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect, impair, or invalidate any other section, sentence, clause, phrase, word, portion, or provision of this Title which can be given effect without the invalid portion. In adopting this Title, the Board of Supervisors affirmatively declares that it would have approved and adopted the Title even without any portion which may be held invalid, unconstitutional, or unenforceable.
